

Mythology Web Sites

<http://www.pantheon.org/mythica.html>

The Encyclopedia Mythica - This is an excellent site to get your feet wet. Use the "Search Mythica" search bar on the home page to find information about your topic.

<http://messagenetcommresearch.com>

This site has an easy-to-read introduction to Greek mythology as well as a comparison of Greek and Roman deities. The best way to search here is to click on "Immortals" on the home page. This will give you an annotated list of gods and demi-gods. Click on the name of your god or goddess to find out some interesting details. You might also take the Fun Quiz to test your knowledge of mythology!

http://edweb.sdsu.edu/people/bdodge/scaffold/GG/greek_myth.html

This contains a link on Greek Gods that is helpful as a starting point. After you click on "Gods," you should select "Olympians." Use the links to fully understand the information presented

<http://www.theoi.com>

The THEOI Project: Guide to Greek Mythology. This site's search engine is very comprehensive. Open to the home page and type the name of your god or goddess in the "Search Theoi" bar at the left hand top of the home page.

Good luck!